Minor Admission

With the permission of their home school or college, students may pursue an 18-credit program leading to a minor in architecture. Admission into the Architecture minor requires students be in good academic standing with a 2.0 GPA or higher. Successful completion of the minor requires a 2.0 GPA in the 18 credits. To enroll in the Architecture minor, students must meet with the Minor Coordinator to discuss an academic plan.

Minor Requirements

The Architecture Minor requires 18 credit hours. 6 credit hours (2 courses) must be introductory architecture courses, 6 credit hours (2 classes) of architectural drawing and design, and 6 credit hours (2 classes) in upper-division architecture electives from the list below.
